4. WID (Customer Identification Law)

You are kindly requested to transfer the amount of € 0,01 from your account to account IBAN NL30 INGB 0669 5262 66, BIC INGBNL2A in the name of AmsterdamSafe.

Additional explanation

AmsterdamSafe is obligated by law to control risks of money laundering, fraud, corruption or financing of terrorism. On the one hand, the purpose of this legislation is to protect the integrity of AmsterdamSafe and the financial system and on the other hand to counter and address crime. In order to store your precious metals with AmsterdamSafe, the Law of Financial Supervision states that the contractor (AmsterdamSafe) should know the client (customer). The customer must therefore identify himself.

In order to promote and not to interfere with trade, a so called derived identification is sufficient. This means that the identification can not only take place during a personal encounter between parties, but also can take place remotely. For derived identification one can rely on identification which is performed by another institution in accordance with legal requirements. In practice this means that we can identify the client by relating your ID to your bank account.

The transfer of the amount of € 0,01 only needs to take place once and is therefore no longer necessary when you purchase and store gold, platinum or silver in the future.

5. One more step
